by carrier will confer a favor by reporting to this office any lateness in the delivery of their papers, or any irregularity or other cause of complaint, in order that the same may receive prompt attention.

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri: Fair; variable winds; warmer;

MAYOR NOONAN evidently has no respect for that rule of conduct which prompted GRANT never to desert a friend under fire.

In view of the disgraceful facts of City Attorney BUTLER's abuse of his office, as revealed by the reports of the Police Department, the only thing which will meet those who did the killing were prompted by fear and revenge or by British money is of small importance. The punishment should be the same in either case.

"We all love WINNER MILLER," has given place to "We all love JIM TANNER." MILLER was sacrificed "outside the breastworks" and TANNER inside, but both have the consolation of knowing that the party and the administration just do on the party.

The best preparation for putting into operation the new grain inspection law would be compliance with the provision of the law which requires the appointment of grain experts as chief and deputy grain inspectors. This would obviate the necessity of much preparation of any other kind.

MAYOR NOONAN consents to remove Secretary MEADE, consequence of charges made against him, but refuses to investigate the charges or to make public any explanation of the facts in the case. The Mayor made a mistake in appointing MEADE, but he has made a more serious mistake in his method of removing him.

The opinion from the Attorney-General as to the date on which the grain inspection goes into effect is unnecessary. But an opinion as to the kind of men required under the provisions of the law for chief and deputy grain inspectors would be valuable. The Railroad Commissioners are not willing to request his opinion on that subject.

The postponement of the date when the grain inspection law will go into effect to November 1, may be turned into a blessing by the Railroad Commissioners. It enables them to avoid the blunder of the Burks appointment if they choose to do so. Unfortunately, however, there is no evidence of repentance and an increase of wisdom on their part.

It is not the Pan-American Congress which the English, German, French and Spanish papers are ridiculing, but the idea that a Government elected on a platform opposing foreign trade as a fatal threat to our home markets can, without inconsistency, favor a letting-down of the bars to foreign trade. When these papers predict that the conference will be fruitless they simply assume that it will be conducted on our side by men whose darling object it is to protect our home market by setting up artificial barriers against foreign commerce, and whose only use for this conference is to promote subsidy raids for private ends.

HAYES AND HARRISON.

All indications from the South are that MR. HARRISON's dream of collecting the old Whigs of the South and their sons on the Republican platform and under the Republican party's banner will prove as disappointing as Mr. HAYES' hope of building up white Republicanism in the South by bribing prominent Southern Democrats with Federal appointments.

Key's acceptance of an appointment from HAYES transformed him into a mere cypher in Southern politics, and HARRISON's recognition of MAHONE as the Republican boss in Virginia is apparently having a similar effect. RIDDLEBERGER, CAMERON, WISE and all the ex-Confederates who became prominent with MAHONE in going over to the Republicans by the "Readjuster" route, have repudiated him and his bossism, and ex-Congressman YOST of the Valley Virginian, Senator LEWIS and other strong leaders of the original White Republican element are on the stump with RIDDLEBERGER against MAHONE.

The election in the colored ranks is more pronounced than in any former Virginia contest. If they have to train under a white boss who was a rebel General, the negroes naturally feel that it is better to follow those who are not regarded as renegades and outcasts by the great mass of the whites. The purchased, free lance in politics is everywhere distrusted, and it is probable that the colored Democratic vote at this election will be twice or three times as large as at any previous election.

HAYES was pledged to one term, and his efforts to work up a white Republican party in the South with the patronage machine was such a failure that it soon degenerated into a mere bait for Sherman delegations, which in the end were treacherous and fatal to SHERMAN's aspirations. The evidence in the case sustains the Post-Dispatch in every particular.

The people of St. Louis were proud, stiff-necked and lukewarm in their support of St. Louis for the World's Fair. Straightway a fire came and destroyed their beautiful Exposition. Repent, St. Josephites, and think no more of a convention to decide where in the West the Fair should be held! Great and prosperous St. Louis, your neighbor, the metropolis of your State and of the Mississippi Valley, invites and deserves your hearty support. Give it to her and all will be well with you.

The evidence against City Attorney BUTLER, which was given in full in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, was wholly suppressed in one of the morning papers and given brief mention in another. The office of City Attorney is a public office of too much importance to be dealt with by suppression of the facts, but the people of St. Louis learned long ago that if they wish to get the truth about local affairs without fear or favor they must look to the Post-Dispatch.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE PURCHASE OF THE LINDELL RAILWAY CO.

The Olive Street, Cable & Western and Lindell May Ultimately Be Controlled by One Company—Terms of the Recent Sale—What Was Paid for a Controlling Interest—The Policy of the Purchasers.

EVERY PRELIMINARY to the closing of the Lindell Railway has been arranged. Practically, but not absolutely, the road has been sold. The bidders for the stock have agreed with the holders on a price of $100,000.

They have paid a controlling interest in the hands of Mr. Edwards Whitaker of Matthews & Whitaker, against a forfeit which is so large that those who own it will never let it go. Except for the formal exchange of stock for money, the road has been sold, and it will soon pass into other hands. The purchasers now have a control, but they are willing to buy whatever stock may be offered, and indicate their disposition to the stockholders they sent out the following circular notice:

GRAND PREPARATIONS FOR ITS CELEBRATION NEXT TUESDAY.

The Building to Be Decorated With Flags—Visitors Will Wear the National Colors and Bouquets of Red, White and Blue Flowers Will Be Given Away—Society Night and Its Programme.

UESDAY evening has been selected as American night and there will be a grand celebration that night in honor of the land of the free and the home of the brave. The entire building will be decorated with American flags, and they will be used as ornaments on the stands of refreshments. There will be a large programme. Probably the best card will be held such a crowd as it will hold that night except when President Grant visited the Exposition. And each person is expected to wear in some conspicuous place the national colors, either as a rosette or else in the form of a little flag. One patriotic exhibitor is determined to shine, and he has ordered 15,000 bouquets made of red, white and blue flowers, which will be given away on that night, and every lady will receive one. As for Gilmore's programme, he has selected a programme which contains nothing but American music and only the works of American composers will be heard on that evening. Gilmore says, too, that it will be one of his finest programmes, and if America has not turned out a Wagner or a Beethoven she still has much to be proud of, and nothing to be ashamed of, for some of those immortal names that were not born to die are American names and some of the music that Americans have written will live forever.

This is society night and the halls and galleries will be crowded this evening by the most fashionable people of the city. The Exposition, however, is open to everyone and the directors do not wish the idea to go abroad that because this is society night the admission is devoted to the wealthy. Everybody will be admitted this evening, but the building will not be theirs. A special musical programme has been arranged for this evening and it contains only French music. The selections are from the compositions of the great French authors, Mr. Meyerbeer, Bellatini, will play an hour's composition of his own. Society night has invariably brought crowns to the Exposition. It is the most populous of all the special nights and the most brilliant gathering that have ever been held under that roof are found there on society night.

Dr. Matthews Will Not Leave Centenary Church This Year.

The members of Centenary Methodist Church now feel confident that Dr. Matthews will be re-nominated by the Bishop of St. Louis Conference, to be their pastor for another year. A delegation from the church called on the Bishop and held a long and earnest consultation with him, returning to the Church, where the official members awaited him. The Bishop had given them assurances that he would not be compelled to accept what they were content.

The General Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will meet in Cincinnati, Aug. 25-28, and the time limit of four years, now fixed by the law of the church, will probably be extended, so that the pastorates of Bishop may continue a pastorate as long as he is pleased.

If such a change occurs, it will be with the consent of the church as long as he is willing to stay. As the church is a fine place for the successful exercise of his talents, it is likely that he will remain a permanent member under his rule.

This important point was well understood by the Kansas City church, which tried to get Dr. Matthews to remain, but he may become permanent pastor of Centenary Church before the close of another conference year.
